Data-driven Solutions: Unlocking New Possibilities

28-29 DECEMBER 2025

CALL FOR PAPERS

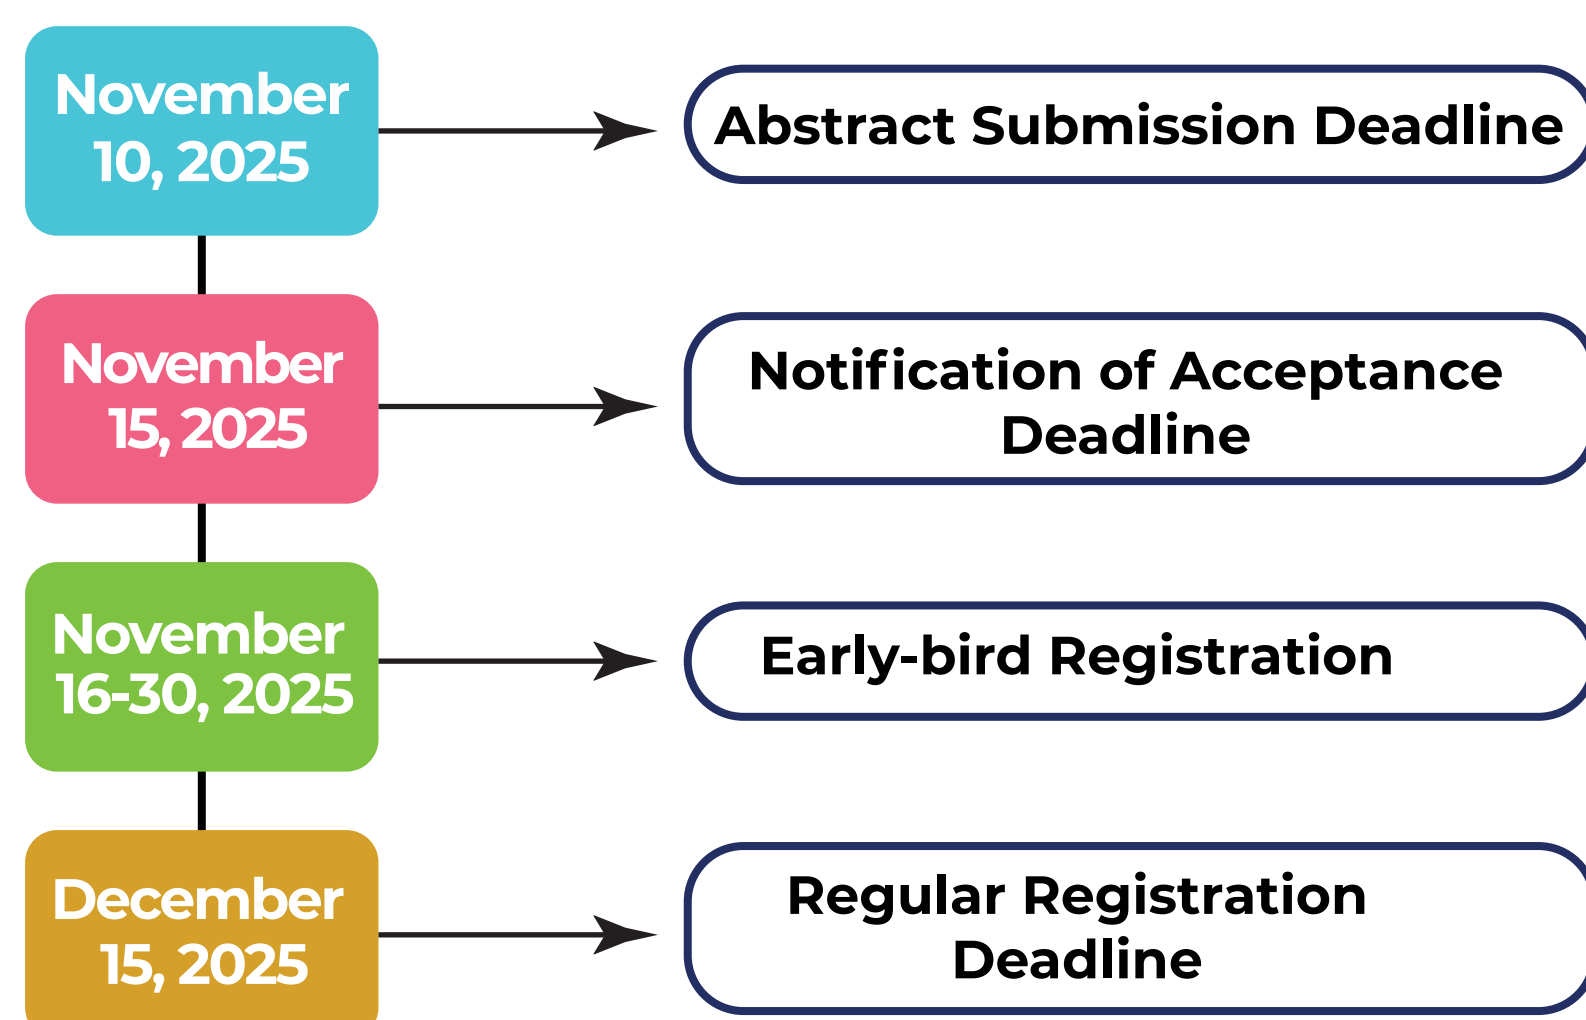

The Institute of Statistical Research and Training (ISRT), University of Dhaka, is organizing the International Conference on Applied Statistics and Data Science (ICASDS), to be held in Dhaka, Bangladesh, on December 28–29, 2025. The theme of the conference is Data-driven Solutions: Unlocking New Possibilities. The conference aims to bridge the gap between education and emerging industry demands, foster collaboration among educators, researchers, industry leaders, and stakeholders, and facilitate discussions on how to empower the next generation with the necessary tools and knowledge to harness the power of data effectively. Researchers, academicians, and representatives from business, industry, government, and non-government organizations are invited to participate in the event.

Scope

The conference invites papers in all areas of statistics, data science and their applications including the following:

Artificial Intelligence	Data Mining
Actuarial Science	Data Science
Bayesian Methods	Stochastic Models
Big Data Analytics	Operations Research
Survival Analysis	Data Visualization Tools
Business Analytics	Deep Learning
Bioinformatics	Demography
Biostatistics	Design of Experiments
Causal Inference	Econometrics
Industrial Statistics	Public Health
Longitudinal Analysis	Semi-parametric Methods
Machine Learning	Signal Processing
Mathematical Statistics	Clinical Trials
Multivariate Methods	Epidemiology
Neural Networks	Statistical Computing
Nonparametric Methods	Statistical Genetics
Data Engineering	Statistical Modeling
Agricultural Statistics	Image Processing
Official Statistics	Environmental Statistics
